Hi Daniel,

You can use the feed as long as the calendar is being cached by your service, i.e. Alexa should not be fetching directly from my site but from some server that you are hosting.

Cheers,

Douglas

Hi Doug,

I've written an Alexa skill for finding out about school holidays - <https://www.amazon.com.au/dp/B07B8ZQLMK/>

At the moment it only works for Queensland, but I'm thinking of extending it to other states.

For it to work, I need to have a reputable source of data regarding public holidays. Is there any issues with me accessing the iCal files you provide in this skill? (I think I may already be using your file - though cached through google). I'm very happy to give credit and a link to your site.

Regards,
